The Middle East Institute

Since its founding in 1946, the Middle East Institute has become a gathering place for all those interested in the Middle East.

The benefits of membership include:

- a subscription to The Middle East Journal
- borrowing privileges at the George Camp Keiser Library
- discounts on tuition for Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, and Turkish language classes and the purchase of MEI publications
- a greatly reduced registration fee for MEI's Annual Conference
- and advance notification of upcoming MEI activities through the bi-monthly Newsletter and monthly calendar of events.

The Middle East Journal

The Middle East Journal—published quarterly for over 50 years—provides original and objective analysis, as well as source material, on the area from Western Sahara to Pakistan and the new countries of the former Soviet Central Asia and the Caucasus. The Journal contains the background and current information necessary for an understanding and appreciation of the region's political and economic development, cultural heritage, and ethnic and religious diversity.
